Our Approach

Role-Based Learning

Learning in the Qlik Continuous Classroom is role-based, to ensure that essential job-related tasks are covered in each role's courses.

	Business User	Use pre-built applications to analyze data and make informed data driven decisions
	Business Analyst	Create powerful, clean, cutting-edge visualizations. Learn best ways to help users explore information and gain critical insights on multiple devices
	Data Architect	Manage and consolidate data from different tables and sources and integrate them into a clean dashboard interface
	System Administrator	Manage security and platform architecture, including performance and scalability

Modular Learning

We conveniently organize learning into modules that may be completed in a single sitting.

We frequently add new modules and update existing modules as we release new product versions.
